

Jeff Rodgers Takes the Worlds

The Summer Olympics does not have water sports competition like slalom and trick skiing and ski jumping. So, the Worlds competition was created. In order to compete in the Worlds, you have to be invited. Every two years, the best athletes from around the world go head to head to find out who is the best.

This years "Gold Medallist" is Greenwood native, Jeff Rodgers. Jeff's gold medal run was 2 buoys at 41 feet off beating Will Asher by a half buoy. Jeff hold's this title until he defends it in 2005. Jeff also co-holds the World Record.

Unlike many of the competitors, Jeff's skiing is not his only job. Jeff works at his family's business, Rodgers Well Drilling.

If you would like to show your support of Greenwood's own Jeff Rodgers, Gunnells Marine has World Record t-shirts available with Jeff's photo on the back.

Congratulations Jeff, we are very proud of you.
